

Fall Concert Boosts Hope Of Another

On the basis of the success of the Chris Barber concert last weekend, the possibility of having a spring pops concert was considered at the Student Body meeting Tuesday.

The total intake from the Barber concert was approximately $760. After the expenses and the price of the band were deducted, a profit of approximately two hundred dollars remained to be added to the Pops Concert Fund.

THIS FUND, presently around $295, is a safeguard to be used in the event of a spring concert.

The Social Activities Committee of the Student Senate is now looking into the situation to investigate possible names, dates and prices of performers and bands. This committee will report its findings to the Student Body, which will make the decision.

Several committee reports were also given at this meeting. Tom Christensen, chairman of the Academic Life Committee, reported on some of that committee's projects.

THE COMMITTEE has planned three lectures for November and December. Dr. Clifford Hanson, Philosophy Department, will speak on "National Purpose," and the Rev. Robert Dell, Christianity Department, will give two talks on "The Conflict of Grace and Free Will."

This committee is also planning to conduct a study on the results of the midsemester examinations taken by Choir members on tour and a study of the correlation between grades and use of the game room in the Student Union.

Ron Bencke, chairman of the Student Employment Committee, gave a report on the progress of this new group set up by the Student Senate.

The committee plans to make more effective use of the Wartburg representative on the Waverly Junior Chamber of Commerce in promoting better organization between off-campus employers and students.

Wartburg Hosts Annual Art Tour

Members of the area chapter of Artist Equity Association will open their annual Midwest tour with a 15-day art exhibit in the Fine Arts Center, beginning tomorrow.

Miss Helen Wright, Art Department, said that 35 pieces of painting and sculpture, many by Iowans, are to be shown. Equity membership is restricted to those whose work has been accepted for national or regional judged exhibitions.

"The Fine Arts Center will be open daily from 2-4 p. m. until Oct. 30," Miss Wright said. "The public is invited."

Art critic Jessie Loomis of the Waterloo Courier and M. J. Kitzman, art teacher in the Cedar Falls school system, are among the exhibitors.

Informality Is HC Keynote

By Darrell Jobman

Informality will be the rule this year at Homecoming, just two short weeks away.

Both Don Poppen, Homecoming chairman, and Bob Gremmels, alumni director, stress the informal side of the Oct. 28-30 weekend. Alumni events will also get more attention this year.

"WHAT WE ARE trying to do is put more emphasis on alumni activity," said Gremmels.

He added that events were planned to give more time for casual visiting.

"Coffee hour is the most important aspect," Gremmels commented.

Poppen says that everything seems to be falling into place. Times and schedules are becoming definite and he perceives no difficulties.

Among the events scheduled to stress informality are a smorgasbord, an alumni coffee and a luncheon.

The smorgasbord, originally scheduled to be in St. Paul's Parish House, has been moved to Carver's Restaurant. Running from 5 to 7 p. m. on Saturday, the meal will cost $1.75.

THERE WILL BE no formal program. Faculty members and students are invited, in addition to alumni, according to Gremmels.

The alumni coffee will be in the auditorium immediately following the game. Gremmels said that the coffee was being held there to show off the new building and because there is more space.

The noon luncheon is something new this year. Sponsored by Lutheran Mutual Life Insurance Company and held in their building, the luncheon will follow the parade. There is no charge for the meal and again there is no program.

All three events are intended to give old graduates a chance to talk over old times, Gremmels points out.

Seventeen organizations may have floats in the Saturday morning parade, and invitations to sixteen bands have been sent out, according to Poppen. A difficulty may arise from the fact that Bremer Avenue may be repaired around Homecoming.

"But we'll cross that bridge when we come to it," said Poppen.

THE PARADE will start at 10:30 a. m.

The Alumni Association has several meetings scheduled in conjunction with the Homecoming weekend. The first is a meeting of the association's board of directors Friday morning. A second meeting of the whole association is slated for Saturday morning.

A parents' reception is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Saturday night in Knights Gym. Following the reception, the annual Homecoming dance will also be held in the gym.

Another high light of the weekend is the Kastle Kapers production of "Moonlight in Manhattan," directed by senior Bill Schroeder. The musical program begins at 8 p. m. in the gym.

Rehearsals are well under way now after a slight delay in getting music.

"Everything will be either instrumental or a vocalist backed by instrumentals," according to Schroeder.

Debaters To Attend Conference Friday

Wartburg debate team will attend the Grinnell Discussion Conference at Grinnell College, Grinnell, Friday, Oct. 21.

The question for the debate is: What should be the role of the Federal Government with respect to health insurance for its citizens?

Fourteen schools from the Midwestern area will attend the conference. The team from Wartburg will include juniors Meta Fokkena, Al Putz, Wendell Debner and Jackie Knoble; senior Gayle Turner; and sophomore Nancy Gaylor.

A group composed of Grinnell faculty members and Dr. Ernest B. Howard, assistant vice president of the American Medical Association, will debate the question in the morning.

In the evening a banquet will be held. The program for the banquet will include a criticism of the student debate in the afternoon.

Dylan Thomas Subject Of 2nd Lecture

Dylan Thomas, Welsh poet, will be the subject of a lecture by Richard Davis, English Department, next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the audio-visual room of the library.

This lecture will be the second in the series being sponsored by the English Department to permit students to study contemporary writers in America and Europe.

Following the lecture and discussion, a committee of students majoring in English will serve coffee, according to Dr. E. T. Sandberg, head of the English Department.

IN SERIES OPENER

Branko Krstanovich Chorus Here Wed.

By Grace Jahn

The Branko Krstanovich Chorus will appear in Knights Gymnasium Oct. 19 at 8 p. m. as Wartburg's first Artist Series.

Making their first American tour, the choir of 80 student voices of Belgrade University, Yugoslavia, is regarded as one of Europe's oldest and most distinguished musical organizations.

For proof of that fact, the chorus has been a consistent prize winner throughout its homeland. However, the singing group has also been honored in other parts of Europe.

It received awards at the World Festivals of Vienna in 1959 and Moscow in 1957; at the International Eisteddfod Music Festival, Llangollen, Wales, in 1956; and it garnered no less than three first prizes in the International Polyphonic Contest at Arezzo, Italy, in 1955.

Directing the group is Bogdan Babich, who has been one of the leading conductors of the Belgrade Opera since 1947.

He has also received recognition as an orchestral conductor. The Belgrade Philharmonic has toured Europe under his baton, and he has also been guest conductor of the orchestras of the German Radio Diffusion of Stuttgart and Hanover.

THE BRANKO Krstanovich Chorus will open this year's Artist Series program Wednesday night. The Chorus, from Yugoslavia, is currently on its first tour of the United States.

His devotion to Yugoslavian music inspired him to turn to composing and arranging, and many of his special arrangements have been sung by the Branko Krstanovich Chorus.

The chorus itself has enjoyed a continuous tradition, excepting the years during World War II, since 1884, when it was founded as the Obilich Choir.

In 1945 it was reactivated and renamed after one of Yugoslavia's patriots and national heroes. Branko Krstanovich was a young Belgrade University student, a member of that city's headquarters of the Supreme Command.

Showing exceptional bravery in many instances during his military career, Krstanovich died fighting the Fascists in 1941. The rousing spirit and patriotism of the music sung by the present chorus reflects a man and a people with a deep feeling of national pride.

The first two sections of the program to be sung here by the chorus will include music from the 16th century, such as that of Monteverdi and Gallus-Peletin, through the 19th century, to contemporary works of such men as Orff and Skolovski.

With the use of native musical instruments and costumes, the chorus will devote the entire second half of the program to music of Yugoslavia.

The richness of Yugoslavia in culture will be immediately evidenced in the range of colors, textures and variety of designs of the native dress.

Among the instruments to be heard are the "zurla," an ancient type of oboe; the "tupan," a national drum; the "frula," an ancestor of the flute; and the "dvojnitze," a wind instrument.

EDITORIAL—

Needed: A Firm Stand

It's reassuring to know who is boss.
For a while last week it looked as if the Student Senate had been buffaloeed by one of its own committees. Despite the Senate's recommendations about Who's Who election qualifications, the elections committee set up its own standards.

Complaints poured forth. The grade point, which had been dropped by the committee from 2.5 to 2.3, was not high enough when one considered that every senior has to have a 2.0 even to graduate.

The extracurricular activity requirements set up by the committee — to be eligible a student had to have been an officer in a campus organization, Student Body or class, or hold two letters in one sport or one each in two sports — were attacked as not being a true indication of a student's value. In addition, such qualifications were thought to be unnecessary.

To top everything off, elections were scheduled during Student Body meeting, an idealistic, impractical time to elect anybody to anything.

Discussion sizzled at Senate Monday night. Solons, who do not presently have the authority to order their committees around, strongly recommended that the Who's Who qualifications and election time be revamped. The Senate executive committee met with members of the elections committee afterwards.

As a result, the election was shifted from Tuesday's Student Body meeting to Thursday's convocation. After the Tuesday meeting, senators held an emergency session. They voted 16-0 that their recommendations be put into effect.

The extracurricular requirements were dropped. The grade point minimum was hiked back up to 2.5.

The Senate is certainly not meant to be the great authority of Wartburg College. Its duty does not imply dictation of student affairs. It most certainly is fair game for criticism. Some might even call it a sitting duck.

However, the Senate, as representative of the students, must take a firm stand. It cannot allow the committees it appointed to supersede itself.

Perhaps it would be well to amend the Student Body constitution, making it clear that appointed committees are subject to the jurisdiction of the Senate, a rule which is merely implied at present.

The Senate preserved its status during the past week. It certainly is reassuring to know who is boss.

COMMUNAL LIFE SHOWN BY

Lutheran Monastery In Mich.

By Phil Truckenbrod

Near the small town of Oxford, Mich., not far from a large Benedictine Monastery, stands an inconspicuous farmhouse surrounded by 40 acres of timber and pasture.

For some time now, the attention of much of U.S. Lutheranism has been gradually but warily attracted to this house.

The name of this building is St. Augustine's House, and it is the home of a Lutheran monastery — the Congregation of The Servants of Christ.

"Lutheranism" and "monastery" are two words not generally associated in this country. Several Lutheran monasteries and convents still exist in Europe, however, where interest in Protestant religious communal life is growing.

The Father Superior at Oxford is the Rev. Arthur Carl Kreinheder, c.s.c., son of a prominent Missouri Synod Lutheran family. Father Kreinheder studied at Lund, Sweden, spending summers as a Novice at the Community of Taize in France, a well-known Protestant monastery of Calvinist influence.

After being ordained by the Swedish bishop, Father Kreinheder returned to the United States and with the help of many contributors, but relying largely on his own finances, began the work at Oxford.

A national support group, the Fellowship of St. Augustine pledges itself to "promote the cause of the religious life in Community in the Church of the Augsburg Confession."

Life is simple for the Congregation, yet reflects the great joy of true Christian fellowship. The Brothers tend to matters on their small farm with its flock of sheep, and, of course, live the liturgy of the church throughout the day.

Each day begins with celebration of the Holy Eucharist in the Congregation's Chapel of the Visitation.

Lutherans from areas surrounding Oxford have been quick to make use of St. Augustine's House as a retreat center. Brothers are kept busy conducting both individual and group retreats.

The monastery at Oxford is seen by many as one of the few signs of greatly needed spiritual renewal in the Lutheran churches of the United States.

"Into Thy hands, O Lord."

First Floor Vollmer Applauds Clinton Hall

To the Editor:

We would publicly like to say thank you and express our appreciation to the men of Clinton Hall who serenaded us so gallantly Thursday evening. We are looking forward to more serenades, hoping these will not be marred by a few screaming girls who do not know how to conduct themselves properly during a serenade.

Thanks again, men.

'Give Profs Credit' Says D. Rasmussen

Dear Student,

I want to pass on an idea that I feel might improve our school here at Wartburg if put into practice.

It is the duty of a student to go up to the professor after a class session and compliment him on an interesting lecture whenever the student feels this is the case.

It would make the professor's work more rewarding and maybe more of a challenge if he knew he would be rewarded in this fashion for a fine lecture.

Let us forget this childish idea of "brown-nosing" and give credit where credit is due.

Elections Committee Member Decries Senate Changes In Who's Who Ballot

Editor of the Trumpet:

I am writing this letter in regard to the recent Who's Who elections which were held here at Wartburg College. A number of questions have arisen in my mind due to the action taken by the Student Senate in this election.

I realize that Student Body elections are run by the Senate, but I am wondering just how much authority this group is allowed to use. Being a member of the elections committee, I am aware of certain things that perhaps the general Student Body does not know.

Is it not true that the elections committee was told to go ahead and set up the criteria for selecting the ballot? No order was given about leaving the grade point at 2.5.

The feeling of the group was that in order to make this selection a more accurate one, lowering the grade point requirement to 2.3 would make it possible for certain individuals who were very active in organizations to be on the ballot.

The feeling behind this reasoning was that we felt that this election was not entitled Who's Who Academically but rather Who's Who in Wartburg College, implying which students are familiar to the entire Student Body through their organizational as well as academic life.

Not only did the Senate raise the grade-point ratio to 2.5, they also did away with any requirements in regard to being in organizations or groups.

This election was purely academic, and it appears that certain seniors with high grade points were fearful of being left out due to the popularity of their more active but less intelligent classmates.

I think the results of the Senate's action was made obvious by some of the names that appeared on the ballot. Not only were many unknown to several of the underclassmen, but I think some of the seniors saw the names of classmates that were new to them.

Another indication of an inadequate ballot can be pointed out by the number of ballots that were disqualified, due to people not voting for 19 people. Not only was the ballot much larger than that set up by the elections committee, it was also a less accurate indication of Who's Who on campus.

Another factor that should be pointed out is that the lowering of the grade point to 2.3 made a difference of exactly 13 names on the ballot. I wonder if it actually warranted a change as drastic as that one which was taken.

I am writing this as an unbiased student. Since I am a sophomore, this election didn't mean much to me personally. I would, however, like to see some changes made in the future in regard to this election. Let's not make the Who's Who election a purely academic affair.

Alpha Chi To Initiate 17 New Members At Open Ceremonies Sunday, Oct. 23

Initiation ceremonies for the 17 new members of Alpha Chi, national honorary scholarship society, will be held Sunday, Oct. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the choral room of the Fine Arts building.

Ceremonies will be open to the public.

New junior members will be William Goetz, Tripoli; Betty Haefs, New Prague, Minn.; Judith Holtz, Maquoketa; Charles Jepsen, Dumont; Kay Johannsen, De Witt; Janice Kriesel, Owatonna, Minn.

James Lahmann, Tripoli; Janice Larson, Gays Mills, Wis.; Joanne Mammen, Merrill; Darlene Nimtz, Jackson, Wis.; Gordon Nipp, Treynor; Margretha Radloff, Bird City, Kan.; Julie Schlarmann, Monticello; and Leon Schwartz, Waverly.

To be eligible for membership, juniors must rank in the upper 10 per cent of their class and must have completed not less than half of the credits required for graduation.

Seniors also must rank in the upper 10 per cent of their class and must have completed not less than three-fourths of the credits required for graduation.

All prospective members must receive the approval of the faculty.

New senior members will be Rachel Lamker, Richard Jebson and Mrs. Esther Joens, all from Waverly.

In addition to these three, nine of last year's charter members will be advanced to senior membership.

Established April 29, 1960, the Iowa Alpha Chapter of Alpha Chi recognizes and promotes scholarship and character on the Wartburg campus.

Dean of Faculty John O. Chellevoid is the faculty sponsor, and the members of the advisory committee are Dean Chellevoid, the Rev. Edwin A. Schick, Christianity Department, and Miss Erna B. Moehl, English Department.

Co-Editors Appointed Neumann Travels

Linda Lott and Darrell Jobman, sophomores, were appointed acting co-editors of the Fortress at a Publications Committee meeting Tuesday.

Bonnie Lambert, a last year's sophomore chosen last spring to edit the 1961 Fortress, did not return to Wartburg this fall.

Miss Lott and Jobman were serving as associate editors.

Dr. G. J. Neumann, of the English Department, attended the final meeting of the Board of Publication of the American Lutheran Church last weekend in Columbus, Ohio.

Dr. Neumann has been poetry editor of the "Lutheran Standard" and for many years a member of the Board of Publication.

Carolyn Kellogg Selected Girl-Of-Week

Carolyn Kellogg, senior from Clear Lake, was named the second North Hall Girl-of-the-Week by the dormitory during its weekly march Thursday night.

Each of the six Girls-of-the-Week will receive a corsage, according to Dave Siefkes, North Hall councilman. Each girl will also be a candidate for North Hall's campus carnival queen representative.

Couple Has Son; 2 Are Engaged

One engagement and one birth occurred among Wartburg students during the past week.

Freshman Doris Hultgren received a diamond from senior Robert Pannkuk Oct. 7. Wedding plans for the couple, both from Garnavillo, are indefinite.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallin are the parents of a son, Steven Charles, born Oct. 7. Wallin is a senior, and Mrs. Wallin, the former Helen Watson, attended Wartburg for two years.

Graduates Requested For Parish Education

Requests have been received for graduates in the field of parish education, according to Miss Mattie Harms, placement director.

The American Lutheran Church Board of American Missions and a parish in Texas have sent specific requests for personnel recently.

"We are sorry we cannot supply our church with the needed workers," commented Miss Harms. "If students know of anyone interested in church work, tell them about these openings," she added.

Applications For Graduate Scholarships And Assistantships Due Within Month

Seniors interested in scholarships for graduate work must apply by the end of October.

Those interested in either the Fulbright scholarships or in an Inter-American Cultural Convention Award must request application forms before Oct. 15 and return them by Nov. 1, according to Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg, Wartburg Fulbright adviser.

Seniors interested in competing for the Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowships must apply by Oct. 31, according to Dr. J. O. Chellevoid, dean of faculty.

Fulbright scholarship winners will undertake graduate study in 30 foreign countries, and IACC recipients will study in 17 Latin American countries.

To be eligible for either award, an applicant must have U. S. citizenship at time of application, a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1961, knowledge of the language of the host country and good health.

Candidates for the Wilson fellowships must be nominated by a faculty member.

The program is designed to encourage college seniors of outstanding ability to undertake graduate study with a position on a college faculty as their goal.

Dean Chellevoid attended a meeting concerning the Wilson scholarships on Oct. 8 in Iowa City.

Last year James Eissinger, 1960 graduate, was awarded a Fulbright. John Meyer, 1959 graduate, received a Wilson award.

Lab Hours Listed

Students who wish to use the language laboratory for practice and study will find it open at the following times, according to the Rev. Walter Tillmanns, German Department:

1-2 p.m., Monday-Thursday; 4-6 p.m. and 7-9 p.m., Monday-Friday; and 8 a.m.-12 noon on Saturday.

Chellevoid Travels Through 3 States

Dean of Faculty John O. Chellevoid last week attended a series of meetings and conferences in Chicago, Ill.; Up-land, Ind.; and Iowa City.

Traveling first to Chicago, Chellevoid attended a meeting of the American Council on Education Thursday and Friday.

From Chicago he went to Up-land, where he attended the inauguration of the new president of Taylor University.

As campus representative, he also attended a conference in Iowa City on the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation.

PIPE DREAM NO LONGER —

Music Department Acquires Organ

By Elaine Melchert

Pipes are the rage on campus, but the newest ones can't be smoked.

During the past few weeks, a new pipe organ has been installed in the Fine Arts Center.

"This organ will greatly benefit the department and the students themselves," said Warren Schmidt, organ instructor. "It will give the student an opportunity to hear what a good organ really sounds like. This has been lacking in the past."

Covering the entire south wall in the Choral Rehearsal Room, the organ is a three-manual, with stop tablet console. This feature enables the department to teach on three manuals instead of the previous two.

For the past year and a half, the organ has been in the process of being built by the Schlicker Company of Buffalo, N.Y. The cost of the organ totals around $21,000.

The case work is done in unfinished pine. Approximately 1,200 pipes constitute the organ. Almost all of these pipes are in the open. Included are 15 systems, or ranks, that range from lowest bass to highest treble.

The movable console provides another advantage: The principles used in its building are of the best type, according to Schmidt. They are much the same as those used in the time of Bach, though of course there were no mechanics then. The present organ is completely electric.

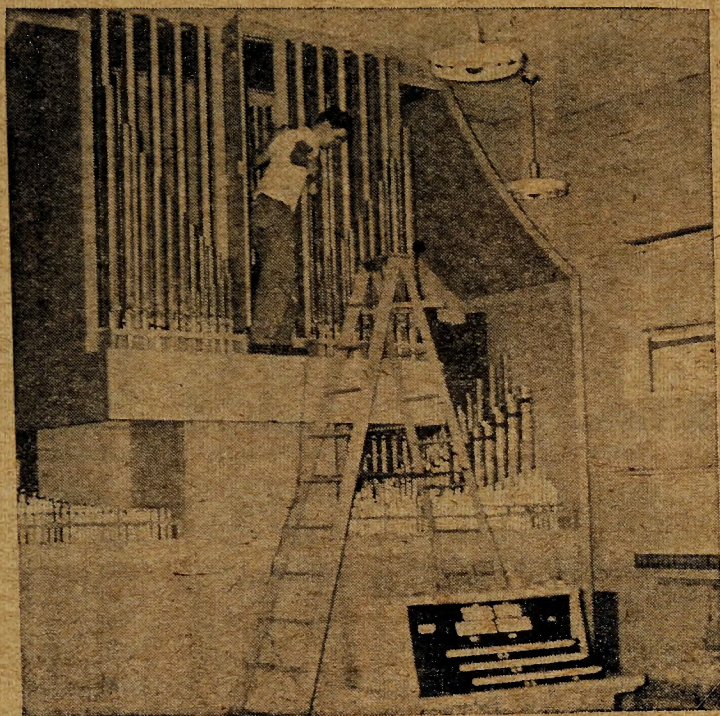

Schmidt commented, "The new pipe organ is a welcome addition, which will enable people to perform the best type of sacred organ literature. Its initial purpose is to train people for the church."

Organ majors primarily will use the organ, though after a suitable schedule can be worked out, it will be made available to a wider range of students.

Schmidt added that it is the hope of the department that students will carry along the good standards the organ will offer them to their home churches. When the students profit by it, they will carry the benefits with them.

When the finishing touches are placed on the organ, two dedicatory recitals will be presented by outside guests. Announcement of this will be made at a later date.

Wartburg's new 1,200 pipes should get quite a workout.

THE CONSOLE portion of the new organ, with its three keyboards, is dwarfed by the towering pipes. Workmen, who have been installing the organ for the past three weeks, are putting the finishing touches on the instrument.

'60 Band Platters Now For Sale

Recordings of the 1960 Wartburg College Band tour have been released, according to Robert E. Lee, director.

Made in Chicago by Decca Records, the disk includes "Come Back to Sorrento," with trumpet solo by Eddie Skay, senior; "Five Mellow Winds," a song with the "Miller Sound," featuring four saxophones and a clarinet; "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God"; several marches, including one by John Philip Sousa, and various overtures.

The 33 rpm high fidelity recording can be purchased in Lee's office in the Fine Arts Center from 7-8 p.m. Monday through Friday or from any band member.

Tetzel Part Cast

John Wollenzien, senior, has been cast as John Tetzel in the coming Martin Luther pageant. Casting is now complete.

The play, which will be presented Oct. 30, is under the direction of Vernon Lestrud, Speech Department. Rehearsals are now under way.

Results Released Of Frosh Tests

In accordance with Wartburg practice, results of tests administered in September are now being released to freshmen.

Scores given are on a percentile rank basis, showing how each student stands in relation to the rest of his class. Freshmen may obtain these scores from their counselors.

According to Dean of Students Earnest F. Oppermann, raw scores of the present freshman class compare favorably with those of past freshman classes.

APG Pledges 3

KWAR, Wartburg Radio Station, Takes To Air

By Fern Chantland

Though comparatively young, KWAR, Wartburg's radio station, has made great progress since its installation in 1951.

When operation began, KWAR used only one turntable and had only two rooms, one a studio and another which served as control room-record library.

At the present time, the student-operated station utilizes two 16-inch turntables, one 12-inch turntable and three tape recorders. It has six rooms — executive office, staff office, studio, control, record library and technical workshop.

Although radio station KWAR is considered a laboratory of the Speech Department, it is entirely student-operated under the supervision of a member of the speech faculty.

Students who are not considering the field of radio as a vocation are also welcome to participate in this activity whether their interest is radio as a hobby, leisure activity or an education.

The station broadcasts from 4 p.m. to 12 midnight Monday through Friday and from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Sunday with a power of 10 watts at 89.1 megacycles on the FM dial.

Major portion of air time is spent on disc jockey shows. KWAR deejays play all types of records from the station's $6,000 music library.

This year the station will broadcast 750 kilocycles "carrier current" on the standard radio dial. As monetary assistance is offered by campus housing units, "satellite transmitters" will be installed so that more students can listen on their AM radios.

KWAR invites anyone interested in working at the station to stop any time that the station is on the air. Positions are still available in programming, engineering and clerical work, according to KWAR officials.

Station officers are Dennis Thurow, station manager; Ed Knop, production director; and Herb Bomhoff, chief engineer.

STATION MANAGER Dennis Thurow threads a tape recorder in preparation for KWAR broadcasting.

Church Organizes Gremmels' HC Queen Not Only Comes Early — Into Committees It's A King!

Committees for the Wartburg student congregation have been set up, according to college Chaplain Herman Diers.

New committee members were chosen by the 28 deacons elected at precinct meetings. They complete committee assignments made last spring.

Joining the Worship Committee are juniors Dan Basinger and Harold Schlachtenhaufen, sophomore Charles Ager and freshman Allen Mardorf. Seniors Donna Davidson and Jack Horner, junior Bill Wachholz and sophomore Jean Engelhardt are included in the Evangelism Committee.

New members of the Christian Growth Committee are junior Dick Hanneman and sophomores Vivian Johnson, Jerry Staehling and Carolyn Staude. Junior Ted Kalkwarf, sophomores Ron Beckman and Linda Blobaum and freshman Andrae Stoeber have joined the Christian Life Committee.

On the Finance Committee are senior Corliss Klaassen, juniors Art Baker, Don Bentz and Carol Jensen and sophomore Dick Buchsteiner.

"Some people just can't wait for Homecoming!"

That was the smug comment issued by Alumni Director Bob Gremmels Tuesday, the morning after his wife had presented him with a six-pound, one-ounce son.

"The scheduled arrival date was Homecoming weekend," said Gremmels. "I guess the boy just got too excited about all the big Homecoming events we're planning."

To add to the complications, "he" was supposed to be a "she" — and consequently there was a delay of about twenty-four hours before the baby was finally named Jonathan Chapman.

"We were tempted," said Gremmels, "but we just couldn't go through with Jennifer Lyn. The alumni might rebel."

Directories Soon To Be Sold Again

Well, that time is here again . . . Yes, it's time to dig your hands into your pockets and purses and come up with 40 cents.

That 40 cents will get you one brand new bright and shining Wartburg College directory.

Directories, which list the names, addresses and phone numbers of all students, faculty, staff and administration members, will soon be sold by Alpha Phi Gamma, national coeducational journalistic fraternity.

Students will be able to purchase their copies in the supper line and through dormitory representatives in the near future, according to Grace Jahn, APG president.

Frosh Smart

Freshmen aren't so dumb. Three, instead of the planned two, advanced communication skills classes are being offered this year. An exceptionally large number of freshmen scored high in the English placement test, according to Miss Erna Moehl, communication skills director.

'Lyrical Iowa' Copies Available At Library

"Lyrical Iowa," featuring poems by members of the Wartburg faculty and Student Body, is now on hand at the library.

"Lyrical Iowa" is an annual volume of poems by Iowa poets. This year's edition contains works by Dr. E. T. Sandberg and Mrs. Margaret Garland, both of the Wartburg English Department, and sophomore Judy Dueshop.

Alumni Program Includes New 'Knight Owls' Awards

By Darrell Jobman

Some of Wartburg's alumni may soon be known as "Knight Owls."

Bob Gremmels, alumni director, explains that the Knight Owls will be an alumni organization to help get more students for Wartburg. The organization would also unite Wartburg graduates into a closer association.

A Knight Owl would be named in many places throughout the area from which Wartburg students now come. They would interest high school students in Wartburg through coffees, informal gatherings and through personal contact.

The Knight Owl would also serve as head of the alumni in his area, according to Gremmels.

Other future alumni plans which will be decided upon at the association meeting Oct. 29 include a proposal to give faculty members cash awards for distinguished service, a proposal to establish an alumni magazine and the possibility of building an alumni center sometime in the future.

All are included in the Wartburg Alumni Mobilization plan as Gremmels calls it. Gremmels points out that the proposals are all indefinite, but he feels that they would be good ideas for the alumni to adopt at their annual meeting.

Plans for 1961 include remodeling of the alumni office at the north end of Luther Hall. Maybe in the future bigger and better facilities can be made, says Gremmels. In 1962 and 1963 an alumni secretary and an alumni editor would be hired as part of the plan.

The proposals mentioned above could well be into effect by 1963 if they are accepted, according to a chart in an alumni brochure.

Gremmels is in his first year here as alumni director. Formerly, he was assistant editor of the "Lutheran Standard."

Every-Member Visits Set For Congregation

The Student Congregation held every-member visits recently.

For better personal contact, the members met in small groups under the keyword "dedication."

This year the campus congregation increased by about one hundred new students to a total of seven hundred members.

Jomen Face BV, Augustana

Wartburg's football squad treks to Storm Lake today to battle the Buena Vista Beavers.

Homecoming on the BV campus this week will make the BV squad hard to contain.

BV was one of the pre-season favorites in the Iowa Conference, but so far it has not lived up to pre-season expectations. At present the Beavers are in eighth place in the Iowa Conference with a 0-3 record.

They've scored only 21 points while their opponents have posted 89. Last week the Beavers got their first taste of victory as they defeated Westmar 13-0.

Next week the Jomen turn their attention to Augustana of Rock Island, Ill. The Vikings have a strong club this year, having posted a 3-0-1 record thus far. Also the Knights are facing them in their Homecoming game, which should make them even harder to conquer.

The Vikings have a nucleus of 18 returning lettermen this year from a squad which posted a 5-3 record last year and finished fourth in conference. A letterman at each position except center gives them an experienced, balanced squad. They are especially strong at quarterback, where they have a veteran of three years as a starter.

Harriers' Foe Is Wisconsin State

Wartburg's cross-country team has hit the road, to take on Wisconsin State College of Platteville today.

Although nothing is known of this year's Wisconsin State team, last year it outscored the Knights 16-43 (Low score wins).

According to Coach Ax Bundgaard, those making the trip are Clint McLagan, Bob McNeerney, Jerald Schara, Doug Goke, George Max, Dan Knobloch, Russell Leitz and Gary Jansonius.

Last week the Knights lost their second straight cross-country meet to Winona State by a score of 25-32. Although the harriers from Winona State placed the first three finishers, the Knights took the next five out of six places. Russell Leitz was the first to finish for the Knights.

SENIOR SPORTLIGHT

Dreier Gives Punch At Fullback Spot

By Bob Johannsen

When the going gets tough, give the ball to the fullback. The bread-and-butter man who can pick up that short yardage for Wartburg is Wayne Dreier, senior fullback from Preston, Minn.

Wayne is a hard-running 185-pounder who can cover the length of a football field in 10.3 seconds — good speed for a fullback.

His high school numerals included three each in football, basketball and track, with four in baseball. He also received all-conference and all-state honors in football.

With this impressive high school background, Wayne has come on to collect four letters in football and two in track here at Wartburg. In track, he runs the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

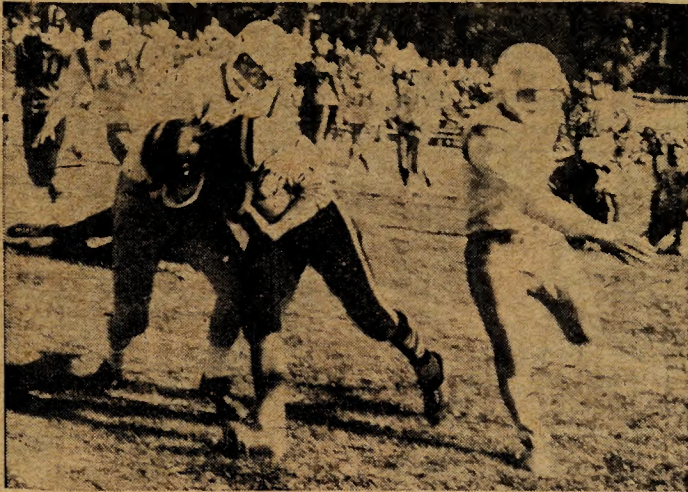

During the last three years, most of Wayne's playing time has come on defense, as a linebacker, but this year he has taken over as a stellar two-way performer.

Wayne is an active member of the W-Club and is the present vice president of the Business Student Association. He is a business administration major.

His goal for the present football season is to finish the season with no more losses, and he confidently asserts, "We won't lose any more, either."

He considers Parsons' quarterback, Gerry Gardner, who engineered the Kelly Greens' passing attack, as the outstanding individual Wartburg has faced this season.

However, despite the fact that the Knights defeated Luther 20-7 earlier this year, Wayne considers the Norsemen "overall, the strongest team we've met."

THE UPPER Iowa Peacocks got Bill Fulcher that time, but they couldn't stop the Knights last Saturday. Wartburg won, 28-13.

SENIOR SPORTLIGHT

Watch For That Moving Van

By Paul Mardorf

"We'll need a break to win the conference," so said Tom VanWyngarden, Wartburg's veteran right halfback.

Tom, playing his fourth year of football for the Knights, has been in the starting position since his sophomore year.

According to one of his teammates, he is a good defensive halfback and an excellent tackler. His great tackling ability has been much in evidence in the games played this year.

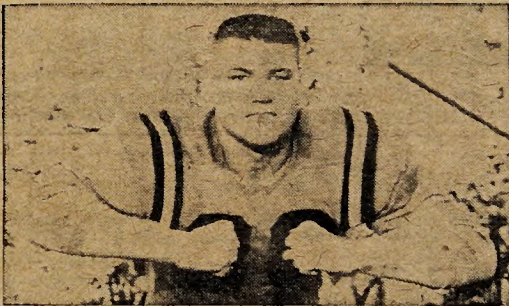

Tom, who hails from Manson, is in the right half spot this year after playing left halfback his junior year and both positions his freshman and sophomore years.

Before his graduation from Manson High School, he garnered three letters in football and basketball and two letters in track and baseball. He holds the school's high hurdle track record and is co-holder of the low hurdle record.

In his sophomore year at Wartburg he was named to the NAIA All-District defensive team and was an Athlete-of-the-Month.

Tom's abilities, however, do not all lie in the field of athletics. Last semester, he made the honor roll too.

This year he is president of the W-Club and is a member of the student-faculty athletic committee. He is also a member of the Business Student Association.

VanWyngarden

His biggest thrills in his athletic career, Tom says, were in 1958 winning the Iowa Conference football championship for the first time in Wartburg history and this year setting the all-time winning streak record by downing Luther three weeks ago.

Although Tom plays right halfback on offense, he prefers to play defensive linebacker, a position new to him this year.

But whatever position he plays, who knows? Maybe that "break to win the conference" is in the person of Tom VanWyngarden.

Waverly Remains IM Leader, 25-0

Waverly captured undisputed first place in intramural football by trouncing previously unbeaten Clinton III, 25-0. The league leaders are now 4-0 for the season.

In other games this week Grossmann I and Basement walloped Vollmer House by a score of 32-6. Clinton II and North Hall picked up wins by forfeit over Grossmann III and Off-campus, respectively.

THURSDAY'S Clinton II-Vollmer House and Grossmann III-Off-campus games were rained out.

Waverly's attack was led by Darrol Bauer, who scored two touchdowns. Carlton Jorgensen and DuWayne Carnes each scored one.

THE HOME-TOWN boys could cinch a share of the title next week by defeating their two opponents, Grossmann I and Basement and Vollmer House.

Clinton III will try to remain in contention as it plays North Hall and Grossmann III.

CHALK TALK

By Tom Kuckkahn

Well, the Pirates finally did it. They defeated the Yankees in the seventh game of the World Series. The superiority of the National League was again established, much to the chagrin of the few remaining Yankee fans.

Dean Earnest Oppermann, Wartburg baseball coach, was seen in the Student Union viewing the final game as it approached its climactic finish. Apparently, he was checking up on his squad members to see if they were picking up pointers from the major league stars.

Let's hope they did, so that they, rated top contenders this year, can bring home the Iowa Conference championship in the spring sport.

Now that baseball is officially over, everyone will be focusing his attention on football. Wartburg's Jomen will be engaged in the fall classic's most colorful game, Homecoming, the next three Saturdays.

Today they are at BV for the Beavers' H.C., next week they encounter Augustana as the "Augies" celebrate H.C. and then they return to Schield Stadium the 29th for their own H.C. game.

A team is always at its peak for homecoming, so the Knights will have to be at their best to contain BV and Augustana.

If you think you've got problems, take a glance at what Simpson's football squad has been doing this fall.

In four games the Redmen have yielded 94 points while scoring none! By now the Redmen's coach has probably been overcome by frustration.

Out of the depths of the dry run comes the cry of Wartburg's cross-country men as they scale the steep incline and continue their trek across campus during practice drills.

This year's squad, composed largely of freshmen, is inexperienced but seems to be improving. If the harriers continue their advancement, a couple of marks could be placed in the won column this year.

Prediction: Wisconsin 27 — Iowa 21! Oh, well, everyone has his prejudices. Don't take the preceding too seriously because I also picked the Braves to take the National League crown by six games.

Defense Lets Knights Top UIU, 28-13

Wartburg's football squad got back on the winning trail last Saturday as it downed the Upper Iowa University Peacocks 28-13.

The score indicates a Wartburg dominated game, but that statement is certainly far from true. If it hadn't been for Wartburg's excellent defensive unit, the score might have been reversed, but once again the defense provided the spark needed to ignite the offense.

Actually Wartburg's offense never really did get started except for one sustained drive early in the first quarter. After UIU had stunned the Jomen and jumped off to a 7-0 lead, the Knights decided it was time for action.

They got into high gear near midfield and drove steadily to the 14, from where quarterback Marv Ott ran it over for the tally.

It was at this point, as the offense was unable to produce, that the defense took charge. Junior Don Sowers, September's athlete of the month, scooped up a UIU fumble and raced 25 yards to the goal for the score. At the half the score read 14-7.

UIU dominated the third quarter almost entirely as the Peacocks put together a number of long drives, but were able to score only once.

As UIU took to the air, Tom VanWyngarden, speedy defensive back, intercepted one of the aeriels and dashed 50 yards for the TD for Wartburg's third score.

The Knights' last counter was a 10-yard pass from Ott to Bill Fulcher, freshman halfback.

Knight total yards gained equaled 189 while the Peacocks rolled up 289.

Wartburg's defense, headed by Don Sowers, whose crushing tackles, pass interceptions and fumble recoveries sparked the squad all afternoon, must be especially congratulated for the victory.

Dreier

As Wartburg strives to win the rest of its games this season, fans are sure to see Dreier go for those last few feet for the first down or touchdown — the longest two or three feet in football.

Conference Plans Include The Arts, Worship, Music

Regional conference of the Lutheran Society for Worship, Music and the Arts will be held at Wartburg on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21-22.

The conference will open with a keynote speech, "Mutual Responsibilities of Church and Artist," by the Rev. A. R. Kretzmann of Chicago, Ill.

Commission workshops on choral music for the church year, as well as theological foundations of Christian worship and hymnology, will be conducted on Friday afternoon. Band, Choir and Castle Singers will present a concert in the evening.

MISS, HELEN Wright of the Art Department has arranged an exhibit of works by artists and student artists from Lutheran colleges.

Dr. William F. Schmidt, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will lead a commission workshop on "Theological Foundations of Christian Worship." Leading a workshop on the organ is Warren Schmidt of the Music Department.

Speaking on James Joyce in another workshop will be Charles Waterman of the Wartburg English Department.

An illustrated lecture on contemporary church architecture will be the first feature of Saturday morning. Workshops on musicology and research, parish music, literature and drama, architecture and organs will follow.

THE AFTERNOON session will include lectures by Dr. Edwin Sandberg, Wartburg, entitled "Sin as a Theme in Literature," and Dr. Julius Bodensieck, Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, on the scope and progress of the "Lutheran Encyclopedia."

The speaker at the banquet on Saturday night will be Dr. Bernard J. Holm, Wartburg Seminary.

Anyone interested may join this society, according to Dr. Edwin Liemohn, head of the Music Department. However, any Wartburg faculty member or student, even though not a member, is invited to attend any of the sessions without payment of a registration or membership fee.

There will be a 50 cent admission charge for the Friday evening concert.

Alaska Movie, Krodel Scheduled For Convo

Alaska will be featured at Tuesday's convocation. Thursday a worship service will be held.

Lt. Col. Arnold Maahs, Tilleda, Wis., will show his color motion picture "Alaska, the 49th State" Tuesday. Maahs, who has previously spoken at convo, has traveled around the world and has made 28 motion pictures.

Dr. Gerhard Krodel, New Testament teacher at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, will lead Thursday's worship service. Afterwards he will meet with the Greek classes and lunch with Chi Rho members.

Azbell Chosen Fellow In Science Academy

William Azbell, Physics Department, was recently notified by the Iowa Academy of Science that he has been elected to the rank of fellow in the organization.

For the last eight years Azbell has had the rank of associate. He served as chairman of the physics section last spring.

Queen Vote Set

Preliminary elections for the 1960 Homecoming Queen will be held Thursday during convocation. All senior women's names will appear on the ballot.

Selection of the queen will be made from 10 finalists at the Oct. 18 convo.

CAMPUS COMEDY

"...WELL, THAT'S MY OPINION. I WON'T EXPECT YOU TO REMEMBER IT FOR THE TEST, BUT YOU CAN TAKE IT FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH."

Materials For One-Act Play Contest Sent Out

The Third Annual State of Iowa Collegiate One-act Playwriting Contest material has now been sent out by the Wartburg Speech Department.

The purpose of this contest is to encourage and stimulate playwriting in Iowa colleges and universities, according to Vernon Lestrud, Speech Department.

Any student who is registered in a college or university in Iowa during the school year 1960-1961 is eligible.

Rules regarding the contest will be posted in the Publications House, on the speech bulletin board and in the English Department office. Anyone desiring an entry blank should contact Lestrud, Dr. Katherine Love, German Department, or Charles Waterman, English Department.

The plays will be presented May 3, 5 and 6 in the auditorium.

Swensen Member Of Review Board

Dr. A. W. Swensen, Chemistry Department, recently received word of his appointment to the National Science Foundation's Board of Review.

The Board receives applications from colleges and universities throughout the country for various types of institutes and research grants.

In his capacity as a Board member, Dr. Swensen will help review these applications and make provision for those institutes which qualify.

During the past summer Dr. Swensen was in charge of the chemistry department at the Institute held in Mankato, Minn. He is also a member of the Visiting Scientists group of the National Science Foundation in Iowa.

1960 Fortress Wins 'Very Good' Rating

The 1960 Fortress, Wartburg's yearbook, was awarded a B-plus (very good) rating by the National School Yearbook Association of Columbia, Mo.

The annual, which rated in the upper 40 per cent of books scored by the service, was strongest in its coverage, according to the judge.

This is a rating service entered for the first time here last spring. The Associated Collegiate Press critical service, to which the yearbook has subscribed for many years, has not yet sent its rating of the 1960 book.

Cruising Around

By Carr

"Turn your head a little more. Tilt your chin up, up, up? Now, watch the birdie. Smile, a great big happy smile." Is everyone hoping as much as I am that this will be THE year for that glamour portrait?

There's a little bit doing here and there around the campus next week. For those who traipse up to the halls of scientific knowledge on third floor Luther Hall, Tri-Beta will meet Tuesday, the 18th, in Room 308.

The guest speaker will be an osteopath from the College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery in Des Moines. Should be pretty good, I was told.

Phebes is making a little journey Sunday to visit the Greek Orthodox Church in Waterloo. Those who wish to go should meet in Fuchs Lounge at 1 p.m. Incidentally, I think they could use a couple of cars to help them get there.

Advance notice — Lutheran Student Association is having a cost supper again. Sunday night, Oct. 23.

FUN, FUN — The junior class invites you to have some fun Saturday night, 7:30, in the gym. Refreshments, too! Don't cut Kapers practice, Tuesday, 8 p.m.

A number of clubs recently held elections. At the September meeting of the 4 R's, junior Judy Eichhorn was chosen secretary; junior Kathy Grimm, recording secretary; and junior Darlene Nimtz, treasurer.

Completing the roster of Science Club officers are junior Dave Braunschweig, vice president; junior Carol Jensen, secretary; senior Darrol Bauer, treasurer; and junior Margretha Radloff, publicity director.

Phebes, parish workers' club, also filled out its officers' list. Freshman Cleo Eliason is vice president, sophomore Joyce Porath takes over as secretary and junior Marianna Dirks is treasurer.

Schmidt Speaks At City Program

A series of 12 lectures are being given by Dr. Karl Schmidt, Christianity Department, in Mason City.

Already begun, the lectures, entitled "Prophets and Their Relevance to Our Time," number two every Monday and will continue until Nov. 7. They are under the auspices of the Mason City Ministerial Association and Mason City Junior College.

Dr. Schmidt is also writing 26 devotional selections for "Christ in Our Home," a devotional pamphlet published by the Augsburg Publishing House of Minneapolis, Minn.

Grades Out Tuesday

Four weeks' grades will be available Tuesday. Freshmen may obtain them from their advisers, while upperclassmen may pick theirs up at the dean of students' office.
